

THE CURRY SOLIDARITY TEAM SUPPORTS ACADEMIC WORKERS!

UAW members who work in higher education are a vital and growing part of our union. Check out the track record of what the Curry Team has delivered for UAW's academic members:

- UNPRECEDENTED ORGANIZING SUCCESS UNDER RAY'S LEADERSHIP
 - The largest organizing win in all of 2021: 17,000 Student Researchers at the University of California won recognition and then a first contract
 - Expanded the UAW track record of overwhelming labor board votes: 85% yes vote by 1500 University of Washington Research Scientists and Engineers; 89.5% yes vote by 550 Mt Sinai Postdoctoral Fellows; and 96% yes vote by 600 Worcester Polytechnic graduate assistants.
 - Expanded UAW academic organizing into new geographic areas: Ray Curry has supported new higher ed campaigns in Alaska, Maine Washington, DC, and other areas.
 - Key support for strong local union organizing programs: Local 2110 has organized more than 2,000 museum and related workers in the last couple years
- SUPPORTING THE STRIKE AS A TOOL FOR ACADEMIC WORKERS TO WIN JUSTICE
 - Support for nearly 57,000 striking workers: authorized strike benefits and support for nearly 57,000 UAW academic workers taking strike action in the last year and a half (University of CA, Harvard, Columbia, The New School, Harper Collins, and others).
- USING POLITICAL ACTION TO EXPAND JUSTICE IN THE ACADEMIC WORKPLACE
 - Protecting academic worker bargaining rights: UAW led the campaign to preserve our historic Columbia decision against the Trump majority on the NLRB
 - Fighting for gender equity in the academic workplace: UAW helped roll back some of the Trump/Betsy Devos damage to Title IX regulations
 - Fighting for pregnant workers' rights: UAW was a key supporter of Pregnant Workers Fairness Act, which expands rights for workers on assembly lines and lab benches
